Re: 2023 FIA Driver Categorisations Reminder

As a reminder, for any driver holding a FIA Driver rating, or participating in any IMSA series that requires a Driver to hold a FIA driver rating, any applications to the FIA regarding driver ratings for 2023 are due no later than Thursday, September 15, 2022 on the FIA Driver Categorisation portal, starting at: https://www.fia.com/fia-driver-categorisation

In the past weeks, a number of articles have appeared regarding the recent updates and changes to the FIA Driver Categorisation regulations, raising numerous questions.

IMSA recommends first reading and familiarizing yourself with the actual content of the FIA regulations before directing any additional questions to IMSA via Paul Walter, Senior Director, Racing Operations, pwalter@imsa.com. A copy of the regulations, highlighting the updated sections, is available on the FIA platform here: https://www.fia.com/sites/default/files/marked-up_wmsc_29_june._driver_categorisation_regulations_2023.pdf

The 10-member FIA Categorisation Committee meets in early October to consider driver applications, as well as annual driver performance reviews, and publishes a provisional list of 2023 ratings by mid-November. The definitive 2023 list is expected December 1st.
