2022 Tire Price Action

The 2022 season continues to bring challenges to teams and manufacturers and technical partners like Michelin with pressures on raw material, production costs and logistic costs increases that have sustained for more than 18 months.

As a result, Michelin Motorsport will enact price increases across its portfolio of motorsports products. This will result in a 3 percent increase on N3 tire lines and 6 percent increase on the associated rain tire used in the Porsche Carrera Cup North America series effective June 1, 2022.

The Michelin race tire prices effective June 1 are:
